Question - 4:

USA L1 Visa General tips part 1:

Ans:

- * Arrive to the interview around 15 minutes and maximum 30 minutes in advance. There is no point in arriving too early.
- * If there are multiple lines at the consulate, make sure you are standing in the right line.
- * Just because others in front of you are rejected, it does not automatically mean that you will be rejected as well. As long as your case is genuine, you will get the visa.
- * Do not panic if your L1B visa gets rejected. That only means your skill set does not belong to specialized knowledge skill set and H1B visa may be more appropriate for you.
- * Make sure that all of your documents are in proper order.

Question - 18:

I have already appeared for the L1B visa and my L1B visa got rejected, now after how much time i should apply for the same case. Whether there would be any problem if I go for the same category once again?

Ans:

Please give a cooling time of 2 months and then apply for L-1B interview. Do ensure that you carry all the required documents this time with proper cover letters from your company and be confident while responding to the questions asked by the consulate officer. Also ensure to read your cover letter and I-129 S form and understand what is mentioned as your current job duties and your proposed U.S. Job Duties, so you will be able to answer confidently when the officer questions you.
