Club Manager Interview Questions And Answers Guide.

Question - 1:

Can you explain what was the work environment like?

Ans:

I didn't deal with customers too often, but I was mostly outside, so it was outside weather conditions. Then inside, I'd say, there wasn't a lot of communication. Maybe every so often, a manager would say, "Hey, go get some carts." But other than that, not a lot of interaction with the manager and cart pusher.

Question - 2:

Tell us how long would you expect to work here if hired?

Ans:

This question is designed to make sure you are not a job hopper. Say something like as long as my career growing and I am continually challenged and learning

Question - 3:

Can you explain what was your favorite part about working there?

Ans:

Being outside and the benefits were pretty decent for what the job entailed. I believe there was full medical, maybe. Perhaps... I forget, it's been a while. I apologize. Definitely health and dental insurance. There were stock options. I was able to take the money that I earned, and put it towards company stock. There was vacation pay, I believe, yearly. I can't think of anything else.

Question - 4:

Tell me have you ever staged an event that increased profits and interest in a business?

Ans:

Shows marketing skills.

Question - 5:

Tell us what is your greatest strength as Club Manager?

Ans:

I am a quick learner (this is a great answer because they will have to spend less time training you)

I work well under pressure (this is a great answer because Sam's Club will have a very busy rush hour and you need to stay focused during this time)

Question - 6:

As a manager, what is your management style?

Ans:

In my experience delegating responsibility and authority is crucial. A team needs to be able to develop and grow as individuals and a whole, not be held back by low expectations or ego.

I believe in building a team. Each member of the team should be clear on their role, know where they fit in and feel as though they can depend on one another. I also believe in real-time feedback. If you do something wrong you should know it immediately. Regardless of right or wrong, the further removed feedback is in time, the less effective it is.

Question - 7:

Why do you want this job as Club Manager?

Ans:

Even though the completely honest answer might be "I just want money," you're going to have to dig a little deeper to answer this question. What appeals to you about the job - do you admire the company, do you want to learn a new skill that they can offer? This question is a little bit about flattering the company/interview, but mostly it's about getting to the core of why you would be happy with this job and want to show up every day. So before you head to the interview, take some time to figure it out!

Question - 8:

What are your salary expectations as Club Manager?

Ans:

Many consider this question to be a loaded gun - dangerous in the hands of the inexperienced. Often times, an interviewee will start talking salary before they've had an opportunity to illustrate their skill set and value making any sort of leverage valueless. Here, knowledge is power, as salary often comes down to negotiation. Do some research into your industry to establish base rates of pay based on seniority and demand but keep in mind - your employer is hiring you for what they believe you are worth, and how much benefit they feel you will provide.

Question - 23:

What experience do you have with respects to this particular as Club Manager?

Ans:

Ever since my first paper route at age 10 I've been doing something to keep myself busy and earn money. Back then, it was obviously about earning some spending money. What I didn't realize was that I was actually starting the journey of establishing what I liked to do and how I fit in to the grand scheme of things. I then worked as a junior computer tech in my last 2 summers of high school. It was here that I discovered what I was passionate about and what I wanted to do. I enrolled in college to get my degree in computer sciences, and I have been working around technology ever since.

Question - 24:

Tell us about your previous work history?

Ans:

Try and relate how your previous work experience relates to the job you are applying to at Sam's Club. For example, most jobs want you to work with customers so if you have customer service experience now is the time to mention it.

If this is your first job tell them you have been focusing on school and now you are excited to prove yourself in the workforce.

Question - 25:

Why should I hire you as Club Manager?

Ans:

For this question, you want to reread the job description and find key skills they are looking for and restate those skills. For example, suppose I was applying for a position of Cashier. More than likely they will be looking for people with great communication skills, quick learner, and someone with an attention to detail. So in the example of a cashier interview, when asked why should I hire you state

* I have great communication skills and will work well with other customers.

* I am a quick learner and will not have any issues learning the point of sale system.

* I have great attention to detail and will make sure accurate scanning and correct change is done correctly.

Question - 26:

I like what I'm hearing but we've got a ton of great candidates. Why should we hire you as Club Manager?

Ans:

An easy question to answer well with one caveat - don't slam your fellow interviewee's. On the one hand, you have an opportunity to really stand out from the pack. Alternatively, You shouldn't assume the skills of other applicants. Focus on your own strengths, and if the interviewer hasn't given you an opportunity to mention that one "slam dunk" quality about yourself, now would be the time.

Is there a wrong way to answer this question? Consider the responses below:

* "I really need a job right now"

* "I need the money"

* "Your office is really close to my house"

* "I've always been interested in what you guys do"

Question - 28:

Can you tell me a little bit about yourself now?

Ans:

This is often when an interviewer starts and boy can it be intimidating to field this open-ended question. It's important to know that the answer to this question should be focused and relevant to the job you're applying for while revealing a little about your personality. You should come up with a personal elevator pitch that is appropriate for the type of job you're trying to land. You might start with an extremely brief personal bio - where you went to school, what your primary school interest is, if you've had another job before. Bridge into talking about your specific interests that align with the job at hand (e.g. if it's a sales position you might talk about how comfortable you are with people).

Question - 29:

I don't expect you to go into too much detail - but why are you leaving your last job as Club Manager?

Ans:

An innocent question. But a question that if answered improperly, can be a deal breaker. While many individuals will be looking to a new job as a means of increasing their salary, "not being paid well enough at your last job" is not something you want to mention to your interviewer. After all, are you not likely to leave this particular job if you found you could make more down the street?

View All Answers

Question - 30:

How would you describe the application and interview process here?

Ans:

The application process was online. They had a kiosk you would go to and fill out. The interview process was rather quick. It's your basic straightforward questions, like what you see yourself doing in such amount of time, how you can help the company.

View All Answers

Question - 31:

How would you deal with an upset customer?

Ans:

I would find out what is wrong with the customer. If it was the product I would offer to replace it (mention you would check with your manager first). If the customer was unhappy because they could not find a particular item I would find it for them and not just point them in a general direction. Say you feel it is important to keep the customer happy as an unhappy customer will never return.
